Meddling With Suits.

The Press and Herald yesterday morning had a contemptible reference to a suit now on trial in the Circuit Court as the "Preacher Whipping Case" from Blount county. It was an attempt to meddle in suits on trial to make political capital. The suit referred to of Knight vs. Parham & Allen is a private suit for assault and the fallusion as was unnecessary, as it was

COL. COLYARS SPEECH.

Some Plain Talk to Tennessee Democracy.

Col. A. S. Colyar, of Nashville, made a peech last night at the Court House as by announcement, to a very respectable audience.
His remarks were mainly directed to the Democrats of Tennessee, and he told them some plain truths. He said there were some very stubborn Democrats in the State who could fayor no political movement that did not benefit Democracy. He read from a democratic paper published at Sweetwater, denouncing the pro-posed liberal movement. He said these men could see no difference between Grant and Trumbull. He could see a great difference. It was one between Constitutional Liberty and Martial Law. But, said the speaker, the old line Whigs of Tennessee have some claim upon the Democracy and if the Democratic leaders did not act sensibly he proposed for one to go by them and appeal to the people.

WHIG CLAIMS UPON DEMOCRACY. The Old Line Whigs, said the speaker, fol-lowed Democracy into rebellion, they told the latter what war would bring upon the country. Some of us, more ardent than others, abandoned principle, as it were, and went into rebellion, following democracy. Zollicoffer and other Whigs fought for the rebellion. All this gives Whigs some claims for consideration and they ought not now to be told by Democracy that their plea for a new departure was foolish. He did not want to make war upon Democracy, but democracy ought to have some sense. The speaker said he had just been North to Boston and New York, and the political situa-The Republican bolt was formidable. It was for amnesty and Grant was not. It was for habeas corpus, Grant was for martial law. But nothing could be done if the Democracy run a candidate. The speaker wanted to defeat Grant because it would settle all political troubles and uiet the country. If we are to fight the war by law. battles over we cannot expect immigration. If the Cincinnati Convention endorses the Labor Reform ticket of Davis and Parker, it becomes a formidable ticket. GRANT AN HONEST MAN.

The speaker said he did not believe that Gen. Grant was the corrupt man he is charged with being. Yet he believed he did not appreciate the dangers of martial law, and therefore he opposed him. He believed his defeat would build up our country and that is what we want. We have the finest country in the world, but we do not improve it. New England is sterile as a desert, but they have energy, and it is a rich and growing section.

The speaker said we could not get mer to come here for they had heard exaggerated stories of our troubles. We have had troubles, and I do not deny it, and that is why I want some general political act that will show we are now all right.

I do not deny but we had kuklux in Middle Tennessee. The speaker then gave an account of their troubles in Franklin county when three colored men were hanged, and what he had done for law and order, and how he

AN HONEST CONFESSION. The Government, said the Speaker, has been and to me and pardoned me for my rebellion. I knew that when I went into it I would be a patriot, if successful, but a traitor if defeated. , therefore, appreciate the pardon the Governwith us and I propose to stand by the flag. If we don't develop our country somebody will come in here and do it for us, and I hope they will. I want immigration. I want capital, There are; plenty of men who think as I do but they are afraid to talk, for they want to go to the Legislature or Congress. The speaker referred at length to our resources as a State and what we might become by united effort and enterprise. He thought we could secure this by the union of Liberal Democrats and Republicans, and that is the point he wanted to urge. In conclusion he thanked all for their attention. BAXTER IS CALLED FOR.

Loud calls were then made for Colonel Baxter. He said he endorsed Colyar's remarks, He Inquire of J. W. Ault, or Wm. Jenkins, on thought Democracy had done all the good it ground street. He had no war to make on it, but its work was done. He said a lot of office holders had control of the party and had nothing to propose for the good of the people but Democray, Democracy. Governor Brown, he said, was a Democrat. He eemed to think more about Democracy than the good of the State. His friends announced some time ago that he would have a great policy may know this, and not get offended when ask-ing us to break our rule. to propose in his annual message. Well, the great document came, but so far as he could ever learn, the extent of his proposed relief for the State was to tax suits before a Magistrate and to take for skins in payment for taxes. His remarks were short and the meeting dispersed. The two speeches, the large attendance, and the manner with which the sentiments were received, shows the situation of Democracy in East Tennessee very well. No wonder Ivins says the party is several thousand weaker than with ladies and gentlemen in masks and clad in costumes of every age, some of which were very fine, while others were comic and excited the risibilities of the spectators by their grotesqueness.

THE MUSIC The German Band breathed triumphant strains of melody at the success of the evening's enoyment, while Hodgson's Quadrille Band de-lighted the dancers. It was a sight worth beholding to note the contrasts manifested, and refreshed historical recollections by seeing in the 19th century a correct reproduction of the fashionable garb of centuries gone by. Neither was history alone ransacked for characters, but mythology was searched to lend its aid for the car-

At nine o'clock the masqueraders, who had assembled in the parlor of the Franklin House adjoining, marched into the hall, the band playing a march. After promenading around the room and offording all an opportunity of be-holding the masks, Prof. Lowery, who was in costume, though not masked, called for "part-ners for a quadrille," and pairing was executed with a rapidity that would make the little birds S12 00 hide their heads on traditional St. Valentine's day, and soon the floor was filled with gay ..... 10 00 couples bent on one common object of forget- 10tf

What STINGY LAWYERS SAY.

In the next set might have been seen a shaven monk tripping the light fantastic with a jaunty vivandierre. Harlequins and boot-blacks, priests, nuns and soldiers swelled the throng, and Paddy from Cork, with the freshly imported cockney, enjoyed themselves, though not at the expense of the canny Scot and his lassie,

For the best lady mask-"Aurora," Miss Fannie Hodgson, Miss Hodgson was awarded a beautiful boquet as a prize; Mr. Eifler a bottle of cham-pagne and Mr. Schleier a ham.

The most outre characters were the Shanghai Cock, whose strut would have done honor to Gallus himself, and the perambulating German Windmill, which did very well for high. anteed. The majority of the characters were comic, though some of the costumes were extremely rich, among which we may mention that of Mephisto-scarlet, with scarlet mantle trimmed with ermine, and black mask, N. Eifler; the Conti-nental-blue velvet coat, embroidered with silver lace, silk stockings, knee breeches and three-cornered cocked hat, Chas, Kohlhase. Jos. Gratz looked every inch a Napoleon but few, however, would have recognized Johnnie Hodgson in the fierce Papal Zouave. The characters sustained by some of the ladies were most beautiful and in excellent taste. Miss Jennie Gratz was regal as "Germania," and Miss Augusta Eifler, acted well the "Daughter of the Regiment," while Mrs. Schleier as "Winter," in robes of spotless white made one involuntarily think of the regions of eternal snow. About 12 o'clock supper was served, which was gotten up in Mr. Eifler's best style, which is always satisfactory and consisted of every ob-

The Great Hair Producer.

Hair Oils, Pomatums and Pomades have had their day. They belong to the musty past. Nobody that understands the chemistry of the hair and the philosophy of its growth thinks of using them. Instead of clogging the pores of the scalp with thick onguents, and thus obstructing the insensible preparation which is es-sential to the health of the fibers, we now tone the surface of the head with an invigorating application which penetrates to the roots of the hair and stimulates them in the same way that the fertilizing agents spead over the meadows stimulate the grass roots and cause the blades to spring up in myriads, coating the earth with verdure. The invigorant best adapted to this purpose is Lyon's KATHAIRON. It may well be called the ferterlizer of the head. To the barren scalp it communicates vegetative power. If the hair is dropping out or becoming dry and withered, it arrests the process of dilapidation or blight. The hair thickens and becomes glossy and flexible under its genial operation, and as a dressing it is unapproached by any preparation that has yet been laid on the toilet of

A SURE CURE for this distressing complaint is now made known in a Treatise (of 48 octave pages) on Foreign and Native Herbal Preparations, published by Dr. O. Phelps Brown. The prescription was discovered by him in such a providential manner that he can not conscientiously refuse to make it known, as it has cured everybody who has resed it for Fits, never having failed in a single case. The ingredients may be obtained from any druggist. A copy sent free to all applicants by mail. Address Dg. O. PHELPS BROWN, 21 Grand Street, Jersey City, N. J.

Live Stock Market.

HORSES AND MULES. We have no change to note since our last reort. The Southern market is still overstocked. But two transactions in horses have come to our knowledge during the week and that at a forced sale, which is no criterion of the condition of the market. Buyers from Pennsylvania are in Kentucky on the lookout for mules, they being smoother than those from Indiana, though commanding better prices. The great difference in price between cash and credit sales make both buyers and sellers alike cautious. There are no quotations that can be given, prices depending entirely on the necessity for purchasing and the real value of the animal. Capt. Arch Myers of Campbell county, one of the largest cattle dealers in East Tennessee, brought in a small lot of fine cattle on Monday, which were readily disposed of at good figures. The receipts of cattle for the past week hough not as large as for the week previous, were very fair, and the general quality of those sold was considerably beyond the average. Several car loads were shipped during the week, and others will follow soon. The number sold during the week was 90 head-at an aggregate gross weight of 84,605 pounds. The market continues firm, and the demand good, and ready sale can be found for car load lots of good beef cattle at the following quotations: No. 1 Beef cattle, 4c; good beef cattle, 3a3 c; ordinary beef cattle, 21a3c. The demand for hogs continues good, with a firm market. The receipts for the past week were large, though the quality might have been better. The demand is principally for shipment, and car-load lots are preferable to buyers, but our farmers will find good hogs in small lots in fair request. 110 head were sold during the week on market square, at an aggre-
